Ginvis Defeat Galveston.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Galveston, Texas, March 23.—The Giant regulars easily defeated the Galveston team of the Texas League today, the score being S to 1. Moore, the old Cincinnati player, held the Giants well until the fourth inning, when he went to pieces. Doyle, Burns, Tesrean and Shafer were strong with the bat for the Giants, Burns hitting for a three-bagger with two on bases. Tesreau and Wiltse were in midseason form, the former being hit for two hits in five innings, and the latter for one in four sessions. The Giants left to-night for Austin and will ge to Houston the day following, where Marquard joins the club.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Memphis, Tenn., March 23.—The Cubs ran rings around the local Southern ran rings around the local Southern team to-day, with a score of 17 to 10, ten tallies coming in during the eighth round. Twenty hits by the Chicagoans, coupled with eight errors by Memphis, accounted for the lopsided score. A freak triple play in the third by the Cubs featured, a line hit bounding off Reulbach's neck into Evers's hands, who snapped the ball to Bridwell at second, he flashing it to Saier at first, retiring two runners, who had started with the crack of the bat.

FOURTH WINTER SEASON IS ENDED

Racing at Juarez Track Closes Under Most Favorable Circumstances

Circumstances.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Juarez, Mex., March 23.—The fourth winter season of racing at the Juarez track terminated this afternoon under most favorable circumstances. Weather and track conditions were ideal, and a big crowd was out to witness the windup. The usual get-away day long shots were not in evidence, and the horses ran pretty close to form. The handicap, the feature of the card, resulted in a victory for Ymir, at 4 to 1, which came with a rush at the end and outgaming Meadow and Lackrose, got the decision by a neck. Meadow ran a good race, and beat Lackrose for the place. Dudo and Duncraggan, favorites, won their respective races in commanding fashion; John Louis, second choice, won his race by a close margin, while Quid Nunc accounted for the fifth race in a mild drive. Butterball, favorite in the last race, was easily the best of his field. Results: Results:

McCarty's Title in Danger

Luther McCarty, who, by virtue of his victory over Al Palzer, was pre-sented with the American white heavy-weight title by Promoter Tom Mc-Carey, of Los Angeles. It looks very much as if Luther will have to do some wonderful battling successfully to defend this honor from the assaults of Gunbont Smith and Smiling Jesse Wil-lard. Both Smith and Willard have fought their way to the heights of exteem in the eyes of the fight fans, while that same fickle class is unanimous in declaring that McCarty dis-graced his name by the manner in which he sidestepped a match with Bombardier Billy Wells.

Believed That John J. Grim, Baseball Magnate, Has Lost His Mind.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., March 23 .- That a commission of lunacy will be summoned early this week to investigate the sanity of John J. Grim, the wellknown minor league baseball magnate, known minor league baseball magnate, seems now to be a foregone conclusion. Grim was committed to the city jail here last Monday in default of $500 to keep the peace toward his estranged wife, his $150 personal bond, which was required for his good behavior, having been forfeited at the same time. Since his incarceration Grim's condition has grown so bad that there is no doubt in the minds of the jail attaches that he is insane. Dr. A. S. Priddy, superintendent of the State Epileptic Colony, has examined Grim once, and he thinks Grim's mind is gone, but will not say so definitely without another examination. He will make this shortly, and upon his report will depend the summoning of a lunacy commission.

lunacy commission.

Grim has not had his clothing off in a week, and he spends his time in his cell singing, shouting, talking and pacing up and down, begging to be libering up and down, begging to be liberated.

Grim's wife attributes the beginning of his mental trouble to his loss of $7,000 in his backing the Newport News franchise in the Virginia League last summer. Some weeks ago, upon their eturn from Cincinnati, Mrs. Grim refused to see Grim, and he was so strenuous in his efforts to see her and to get some of his personal belongings that she resorted to a peace bond, which he forfeited, and when, as cash bond was required for his behavior toward Mrs. Grim, he had to go to jail. Then it began to be plain that Grim was fast losing his mind. His condition has been the source of much sympathy here, but it has been feared to take him out of jail, because he would not be responsible for his actions.

Grim was arranging to go to Kingston, N. Y., to get together a ball team in a new circuit when his mental trouble developed. He owned the Lynchburg team two seasons and a half, and has handled Petersburg and Newport News in the same league. He is one of the best known minor league men in the country.
